

Photographer: Hugh Carswell

Goldberg Variations - ternary patterns for insomnia Andersson Dance & Scottish Ensemble

Goldberg Variations - ternary patterns for insomnia is a collaboration between Glasgow-based string orchestra Scottish Ensemble and Stockholm-based Andersson Dance.

The performance features 11 musicians and 5 dancers choreographed together as one to create a new, 21st-century interpretation of J.S. Bach's Goldberg Variations. Örjan Andersson's choreography brings dancers and musicians together on stage in a playful, engaging and contemporary take on this classical masterpiece. Jonathan Morton's musical direction builds on Scottish Ensemble's reputation for vibrant and energetic performances together with an ambitious and highly flexible approach to collaboration.

Goldberg Variations - ternary patterns for insomnia premiered in September 2015 at Dansens Hus, Stockholm, Sweden.

www.goldberg-variations.com

SCOTTISH ENSEMBLE

Scottish Ensemble is a string orchestra built around a core group of performers who are led from the violin by Artistic Director Jonathan Morton. Their programming approach spans music from the Baroque period to contemporary work, and they perform in venues as diverse as Europe's leading concert halls to derelict urban spaces. Scottish Ensemble is based in Glasgow, UK.

Choreography: Örjan Andersson
Musical direction: Jonathan Morton
Music: J.S. Bach - Goldberg Variations (arr. Sitkovetsky)
Musicians Scottish Ensemble:
Violin 1: Jonathan Morton, Cheryl Crockett, Daniel Piro
Violin 2: Rakhvinder Singh, Joanne Green, Laura Ghio
Viola: Jane Atkins, Andrew Berridge
Cello: Alison Lawrance, Naomi Pavri
Double bass: Diane Clark
Dancers Andersson Dance:
Jozsef Forro, Eve Ganneau, Paul Pui Wo Lee,
Csongor Szabo, Danielle de Vries
Set and lighting design: SUTODA
Video design: Sam Salem
Costume design: Bente Rolandsdotter
Choreographers assistant: Ina Sletsjøe
Production Managers: Jenny Jamison / Scottish Ensemble & Anne Koutonen / Nordberg Movement
General Managers: Fraser Anderson / Scottish Ensemble & Magnus Nordberg / Nordberg Movement
Production: Andersson Dance, Scottish Ensemble & Nordberg Movement
Co-production with Regionteatern Blekinge Kronoberg & Riksteatern
Technical services in co-operation with Lumination of Sweden/SUTODA

Made possible with generous support by the Swedish Arts Council, the City of Stockholm & Creative Scotland

Duration: approx. 70 minutes

NORDBERG MOVEMENT

Get in touch with Magnus Nordberg through
+ 46 70 450 70 60 or magnus@nordbergmovement.se
www.nordbergmovement.se

Photographer: Hugh Carswell

Andersson Dance

Andersson Dance is an alternating constellation of artists in the field of dance collaborating with choreographer Örjan Andersson. The company was founded in 1996 and is currently developing and touring a number of disparate choreographic creations, all focusing on commissioned and live-music collaborations. The company is based in Stockholm, Sweden.

Örjan Andersson is also creating commissioned works for both dance-, theater- and opera companies where mixed ensembles of actors, singers, dancers and musicians often is a starting point.

www.anderssondance.com

NORDBERG MOVEMENT

Get in touch with Magnus Nordberg through
+ 46 70 450 70 60 or magnus@nordbergmovement.se
www.nordbergmovement.se